

Exchange Studies Report

Spring Semester 2019

University: johann wolfgang goethe university

Country: Germany

1. What is your opinion of/experience with the courses and lectures at your host university? Is there anything a future exchange student should consider?

Over all, I think the courses I took had a high standard, specially the M&A course. Something that other students should consider if one would like to take the M&A course is that the course is very time consuming and demands that one is up to speed to be able to follow the discussions during lectures.

2. Describe the student life at your host university (incl., welcome events, social activities, etc.)

Welcome events and upstart was organized in the way that one felt welcomed and know the most important things to get started at the university. Was not at so many social activities so don't have any input in that category, but went at a couple of football matches, which I enjoyed.

3. How did you find your accommodation? Where would you recommend students to stay?

I found my accommodation through airbnb, where a company rented out rooms and apartments. My recommendation is that one will try to live close to the campus, given that it is like a 15-20 min walk to the most central parts in Frankfurt. Know by people I meet who lived in student accommodations a bit outside the central part of Frankfurt and enjoyed it as well. One drawback is that one had to sign up for a contract over a year and if you only would stay there a year you had to find someone else to take over the contract.

4. What is your opinion of/experience with the service offered by both your host university and the service offered here, at your home university.

My opinion is that it was ok. The experience was that everything went as planned and got the help with everything that I ask for. One thing to have in mind is that those in international office in Frankfurt are students working their part time alongside the studies. This did that they were only in office limited hours two days per week when one could get answers through email or ask them in person.

5. What was the motivation behind your decision to participate in exchange studies?

The motivation behind participate in exchange study where to get a new experience, go outside my comfort zone and use the day-to-day English.

6. Please provide us with tips for potential and future students considering exchange studies.

One tip is to experience as much as possible in the country one is in and the ones around.
