Study Counselling

The screenshot shows the Student Portal interface. On the left is a navigation menu with the University of Gothenburg logo at the top. The menu items include: New student, Your studies, Service and support (expanded), Servicecenter, Study counselling (highlighted in yellow), Academic language and study strategies, Student health, Study environment, Disability study support, Basic Swedish for international students, The University Library, Scholarships, Contact, Digital tools, Go international, and Internships and jobs. The main content area is titled 'Student Portal' and 'Information from faculties and departments'. It features a dropdown menu for 'School of Business, Economics and Law' and a sub-section for 'Graduate School'. The text in the Graduate School section reads: 'If you are studying a master's programme at the School of Business, Economics and Law, and would like to get in touch with a study counsellor, please visit the Graduate School's organization page for more information.' Below the text is an image of a young woman with glasses and a green sweater sitting at a desk with a laptop, smiling and waving. At the bottom of the main content area, there is a section titled 'Others also read' with three blue rectangular buttons.

The screenshot shows the University of Gothenburg Student Portal. The header includes the university logo and the text 'Student Portal' with 'Log in' and 'Listen' links. A blue banner at the top states: 'To access your Microsoft account and email, multi-factor authentication is required. Read more about how to activate MFA for your account.' Below this is a yellow banner: 'Right now, it may take a while before the courses you have registered for in Ladok appear in other systems, including Canvas and the GU card. More information.' The main content area features a decorative graphic of stylized human figures in various colors. Below the graphic, the breadcrumb path is 'Service and support / Disability study support'. The page title is 'Disability study support'. The main text reads: 'All students at the University of Gothenburg are to have the opportunity to successfully complete their studies. Study support is available for those who have a long-term, documented disability.' A sidebar on the left contains a menu with categories like 'New student', 'Your studies', 'Service and support', 'Digital tools', etc., with 'Disability study support' highlighted.

Student health

If you need support regarding your health and wellbeing, you can contact Student healthcare at the University. There are also resources that you can use on your own.

Schedule an appointment

The University of Gothenburg has a procured student healthcare provider, which means that it's Feelgood that you will be in contact with when you contact Student healthcare for support.

You can always turn to Student healthcare if you need support for something related to your studies. This can include things that happen during your studies, such as exam anxiety, and things that affect your studies, such as having a lot of other things going on in your life that make it difficult to structure your studies.

If something is not related to your studies, you should seek out the general healthcare services. If you're unsure, you can contact Student healthcare who will make an initial assessment and, if necessary, refer you to the right place.
